A Heavy Decline in the Prices of Animals on Which We Feed.

LARGE RECEIPTS OF GOOD HOGS.

A Big Supply of Sheep and Lambs Lowers Their Value.

THE EAST LIBERTY WEEKLY REPORT

Through receipts of cattle are in round tumbers 2,000 head less than they were for the two previous weeks. Local receipts, as will be seen by the accompanying report, are only 20 head below last week and 100 head less than the week before. By reference to reports for mid-January it is discovered hat supplies for local cattle trade were 600 head above receipts for this week.

In this week's supplies there were no primes, and the highest price obtained was 33/c. The situation all the week has been in the buyer's favor. Good, smooth butcher stock, from 1,200 to 1,400 in weight, about held its own with prices of a week ago, but no more. Markets for the best going were slow. Rough, low grade cattle and stockers suffered a decline of 10c to cattle and stockers suffered a decline of 10c to loc from last week's prices, and at last accounts some of this class were still waiting for buyers. Butchers seldom have as fine opportunities for raying in supplies as low as they have had for the past few weeks. A Herr's Island cattle dealer reports sales of a pair of steers, which in his language were "very exemish," weighing 4285 pounds, at 39/c. A nice bunch of cattle numbering 8, and weighing from 1,500 to 1,600 pounds, were sold at $i 20. The butcher who bought them could have had $50 for his bargain before he took his cattle to the slaughter before he took his cattle to the slaughter house. A month ago $5.00 would have been the price of these $4.20 steers. All stockmen report unsatisfactory cattle markets for the

The run of hogs at Chicago to-day was be-tween 25,000 and 25,000, giving a total since tonday of about 90,000. decline of 5@10c on prices. At East Liberty, with large receipts on Monday, prices dropped and markets were slow on that and the followand markets were slow on that and the follow-ing day. Yesterday, with light receipts, there was an upward turn and more active trade, especially for light packing hogs weighing from 200 to 180 pounds. Heavy weights are still at a discount of 208200 per cent. Lard supplies appear to have been well laid in, and the porkers which run above the 200 periods are of slow sale. A year are the heavy cht are of slow sale. A year aco the heavy weight are of slow sale. A year ago the heavy hog was at a premium: now he is considerably below par. Notwithstanding this necessity of shading prices for heavy weights, the farmer who puts his corn into hogs does better with it than by selling it. At the present prices of corn there is, according to views of packers, a nice profit to hog raisers, though they may be getting well nigh a dollar less per hundred than they did a year ago. While hog receipts are 4.665 more than last week, they are 2.650 less than the previous week.

Sheep and Lambs Supplies of sheep, as will be seen by report below, are more than 8,000 head above last week, and more than 3,000 above the previous week. With this overdose came a drop of 10820c, and very slow markets. A loading stock firm sent out the following report of the situation to their customers: "Sheep supply heavy Monday, liberal Tuesday, light Wednesday, Markets dull and prices lower." At last accounts a few bunches of sheep were unsold. accounts a few bunches of sheep were unsold, CHICAGO—Operators in wheat were again treated to a surprise to-day. The early market was weak and opening sales 3/c lower as compared with yesterday's closing. This, however, proved to be the lowest price of the day and was followed by an advance of 23/c, receded some and closed 13/c higher than yesterday. The firmness was attributed to very good buying on the part of some local traders, and as there was not much wheat offered at times it. #### CAPE TOWN'S MARKET.

Some of the Articles That Can be Readily

Disposed of There. We hear from Cape Town, says the Glasgou Mail, that there is an opening there for dynamite. If, as everything leads one to believe, gold is to be found in paying quantities in the quartz of certain regions of South Africa, the employment of dynamite in this part will very largely increase. The amount imported during 1886 was £19,575, of which amount £32,584 came from Germany.

Germany.

Fine candles would, in our opinion, find a favorable outlet in the Cape market, though Germany, profiting by the advantage which a direct line between Hamburg and the Cape affords them, is seeking to monopalize the trade. Under the name of French confectionery, chocolate and sweetmeats are sold in the principal centers of the colony, which bear not the slightest resemblance to the real articles. principal centers of the colony, which bear not the slightest resemblance to the real articles. Germans and Americans have lately given special attention to this spurious ware, the im-port of which for 1886 amounted to 61,983 pounds. We think it will be sufficient to draw the attention of producers to these circum-stances to induce them to send here some of their best articles, and show the difference by coular demonstration.

Pig Iron as Collateral.

Some of the Pittsburg iron men favor the scheme of the Pig Iron Storage Company, which has just been incorporated in New Jersey with a capital of $2,000,000, of establishing storage yards in different parts of the country, where furnace owners who have pig iron on hand may store it and receive a certificate from the company that will be negotiable. They think such security would be readily accepted as collateral for loans.

WHY SOME LUCKY PEOPLE SMILE. Westinghouse Electric Turns the Scale at

Forty, and in Demand. BANK OF PITTSBURG MAKES A HIT

The big speculation in real estate, mentioned in this department of THE DIS-PATCH a day or two ago, caused some of the Fourth street agents to study up parallel cases, several of which were brought to light yesterday. While none of them were on so large a scale as the original transaction, they nevertheless show how rapid the advance in this description of property has been within the past few years. Nine years ago an acre lot near the railroad station at Wilkinsburg went a-begging at $400. Finally an Englishman traded a house and lot for it. Three years ago he sold 25 feet front for $1,000. A year later he sold another piece of the same size for $1,100. He asks $2,000 for what is left.

Six years ago a drygoods salesman in Pittsburg had $400 that he had no immediate use for. A friend in Wilkinsburg coaxed him, much against his will, into buying a lot on Wood street in that village. Last year he sold the lot for $1,200. offered acre lots at Edgewood for $800 and $900, on easy payments. The same lots could not now be bought for less than $2,000. Other instances of a similar kind were recalled, but the above will serve to show that those who refused to buy before the East End boom set in missed a good thing. a good thing.

"These are not inflated values," said one agent. "They are backed up by a legitimate demand—and by money. The property in ques-tion was purchased by men who have since built comfortable homes upon it, and so further increased its value. If this rapid advance had been the result of a speculative movement, I would doubt its permanency. But as the sales were to people who wanted to bulld, and did build, I can see nothing of the mushroom ele-

Rumers Concerning Its Disposition Lend Strength to the Market.

There was a moderately firm tone to the oil market when it opened yesterday, the outside news being bullish. It opened at 87c, without much activity. The first break was to 86%c. the lowest point reached during the day, caused by New York turning seller, Oil City buying in the meantime, but no heavy blocks changed hands. The market then reacted to 87%c, and closed with sales at 87%c-a gain of %c over the closed with sales at 87%c—again of %c over the opening.

The strong feeling at the finish was due in part to an impression that at the meeting of the Executive Committee of the Producer's Association at Oil City yesterday some action would probably be taken to strengthen the market by reaching a conclusion as to the disposition of the big block of stuff they have been holding in reserve since last fall. Although this was the merest surmise, it gave the market nearly all the strength it had.

Should this have been the outcome of the meeting, it will be the strongest bull card that has been played for several months. The telegraphic columns of The Disparch this morning will furnish full information on this point. Carrying rates here were 30c. The clearings were 1,174,000 barrels. Refined was up an %c at London and Antwerp.

SUPPLYING THE DEMAND. Many House-Hunters Strike the Right Thing and Go Home Happy. So far as known about 100 renters were made happy yesterday by securing houses that came up to their ideas of condition, location and price. In other respects real estate men had a Black & Baird, No. 95 Fourth avenue, sold for John Lowery and William Flinn to George Dimling a property situate on the northwest Dimling a property situate on the northwest corner of Boquet and Semple streets, Oakland, fronting on Boquet street 50 feet by 100 feet in depth, and having erected thereon a new three-story brick awelling, for $8,000 cash. Graebing & Lyon, 135 Fourth avenue, placed a $3,000 mortgage on Thirtieth ward property, a $1,700 mortgage on McKeesport property, and an $800 mortgage on McKeesport property, all for three years at 6 per cent.

Samuel W. Black & Co., No. 99 Fourth avenue, sold for M. J. Snively, for a price approximating $8,000, a lot 44x10 feet with two one-story brick store rooms, situate Nos. 519 and 521 Fifth avenue, Eleventh ward.

C. Baltensperger & Co., 154 Fourth avenue, sold for T. H. Jones to Mrs. I. B. Finkelhor, brick house of five rooms, with lot 20x45, on Elm street, near Fifth avenue.

ANOTHER LANDMARK GONE.

Demolition of a Building Brought Into Prominence by Colonel Bricker.

The building intervening between the Methodist Book Concern and the Masonic Bank on Smithfield street has been razed, and will be superseded by a modern structure of the same dimensions for business purposes. The prop-erty is owned by the Lindsay heirs. "I am glad erty is owned by the Lindsay heirs. "I am glad the old house has been torn down," remarked a gentleman yesterday. "It was nothing but a shell. It is surprising that it was not blown down or did not fall of its own weight long ago. It was like a man with a heavy body supported by a pair of very thin legs."

The building in question was erected about 1873, and was considered quite an ornament to the street at that time. It was first occupied by the late Colonel Fricker, who was a noted character in his day—genial, liberal and fond of a joke. His steaks and soups were considered marvels of the culinary art, and attracted to his restaurant many prominent people.

Import Dutles in Chill.

With reference to the surtax charged in Chili on the import duties, it is stated that the Government of that country proposes to reduce it mouthly by 1 per cent until it does not exceed 40 per cent of the tariff duty. The mitigation of this onerous tax will no doubt prove very beneficial to the foreign trade of Chili and eventually tend to increase the revenue of the Government.
